

Accurate Labs Expands to Include Radiological Analysis Department

Accurate Labs and Training Center has always made service and value a priority of their business. Accurate has put a great deal of effort and resources into staying abreast of industry trends and understanding client needs. That's why Accurate Labs & Training Center is constantly looking for new ways to better serve their clients. One way they do that is to offer services that few others can.

In their ongoing effort to always provide the highest quality, as well as the most unique environmental services, Accurate Labs has recently expanded to include a radiological testing department at the Tulsa Lab and Training Center. With new, state-of-the-art testing equipment and radiological certifications, Accurate Labs takes another step ensuring that their clients receive the best service with unquestionable quality. Keeping the radiological testing in-house allows Accurate Labs to provide the quickest turnaround times while maintaining the strict quality control standards that they are known for.

Samples can be dropped off or shipped to any of Accurate Labs' three locations in Stillwater, Tulsa, and Oklahoma City. Once analysis and review is complete, the client will receive a detailed report providing the analytical results in a concise, easy to read format.
