Hands-On Lab Training That Delivers Real Results at Accurate Training Center

Accurate Training Center (ATC) sets the standard for practical, hands-on water and wastewater laboratory training in Oklahoma. Established in 1998, ATC has built a strong reputation for delivering high-quality education led by instructors with extensive experience and advanced degrees in higher education. What truly sets ATC apart is its emphasis on real-world application—approximately 50% of each lab class involves hands-on training using state-of-the-art facilities and cutting-edge laboratory instruments. Students gain valuable experience operating the same equipment used in professional laboratories. Beyond the classroom, ATC instructors remain available to provide guidance and advice, ensuring students continue to succeed even after completing their training. With its long-standing reputation, expert instructors, and focus on practical learning, Accurate Training Center offers an unmatched opportunity for students to develop the skills and confidence needed for success in the water and wastewater industry.
